

THE UNIVERSITY of NORTH CAROLINA
at CHAPEL HILL

Curtis Smith IV

Intern at Lepage Associates

University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill

Lepage Associates
Solution-Based Psychological & Psychiatric Services

My Responsibilities

- Clinical Interviews
 - Write-ups of psychoeducational, parenting, and clinical interviews
- Literature Searches
 - Compiling information on new topics to inform clinicians on treatment interventions
- Blog Posts
 - Happiness
 - Highlights ways to increase day-to-day happiness
 - Something to Ponder
 - Explores topics that provide unique insight on life

Lepage Associates

Mission: As a multi-specialty clinical practice, Lepage Associates prioritizes helping clients find positive, practical solutions to life's challenges

Expertise	Services
• Couples	• Psychotherapy
• Child/Family	• Marriage Counseling
• Forensic	• Custody Evaluations
• Educational Testing	• Teletherapy
• Separation and Divorce	• Psychological Testing
• Business	• Outdoor Therapy
	• Competency Evaluations

Professional Development

- Gaining applied experience in the forensic dimension of clinical psychology by assisting on court-related services such as custody evaluations and parenting interviews demonstrated how clinicians and the legal system work in tandem
- Exposure to the meticulous supplementary work that clinicians do revealed the “hidden” responsibilities of psychologists and the variety of tasks they do in addition to treatment
- Completing literature searches exhibited how research can inform practice. With research constantly evolving, it is essential that clinicians always remain vigilant of new empirical findings to help clients

Research: Betrayal Trauma

Betrayal Trauma occurs when people or institutions that a person depends on for survival significantly violates their trust (Freyd, 2008)

